What I am

I am a a digital thinker and designer focused on improving the way people interact with websites and applications. Almost 5 years creating strategies for online projects for agencies and independent clients.

Why Me

I can take over any project from scratch and am not afraid of the size of it. You'll work with someone able to match your brand vision with your clients needs and likes. I can help you with the following:

- Digital Product Strategy and Architecture
- User Experience Strategy and Design
- User Interface Design
- Prototyping
